BLUEGRASS FAIR.

One of the handsomest trophies that will be presented at the Big Bluegrass Fair at Lexington, which comes off the week of August 10th to 15th, this year, is the pitcher donated by the American Saddle Horse Breeders' Association. Through a misapprehension of the desires of the Association the requirements concerning that pitcher were misstated in the catalogue where the offer was made for the finest American saddle horse two years old and under. As a matter of fact the conditions made by the Saddle Horse Breeders' Association enlarge and broaden the classification, as the trophy is offered for the best stallion or mare, three years old or under. It is, however, confined to Kentucky exhibitors. This year, at least, it is certain to be the source of one of the best of all the splendid shows at the Bluegrass Fair.

NOMINATOR DUNN announced that BRYAN is ripe for the honor. In that case he was picked twice while he was green.—Louisville Herald.

NEVER say you would not have done what this or that individual has done. No one knows what he would do if a like temptation were brought to bear upon him as was brought to bear upon the object of his censure.

MR. BRYAN, as the advance agent of Democratic prosperity, is strictly in accord with his gold brick methods of dealing with the "great common people" when he demands "$10 to $100" from the farmers of the country to aid the Democratic campaign.

THE Public School must be made and kept the school for all, without recognition of classes or conditions, and it must shape its work and plan so as to close no door, but rather open the freest opportunity for the best achievement and the highest advance.—B. I. Wheeler.

ARE The New York Times and The Brooklyn Eagle wholly fair to the Democratic party when they intimate to their readers that the

The New Democratic Platform a Dodging Document.

1908 platform is no better than the 1906 or the 1900 platform? There is not one word in the Denver platform about the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. There is not one word about bi-metallism, with or without the consent of other Nations.

There is not one word denouncing National Bank notes and advocating wildcat greenback currency.

There is not one word against the United States Supreme Court.

There is not one word about Government ownership of railroads.

There is not one word about the initiative and referendum—and it was not so very long ago that Mr. BRYAN threatened in effect to drive everybody out of the Democratic party who did not believe in the initiative and referendum.—New York World, Dem.

AN EVERY DAY SERMON.

In a Northern town there lived a man who was debased by drink and sin. As is often the case, his wife and children were the worst sufferers. He made his home a hell. The poor bairns would fly at his approach, for he knocked them about terribly, and led them an awful life.

One night he went to a Mission, and sin gave place to Jesus Christ, and what a change! His children regarded him with wide-eyed amazement. A kind father was a new relation altogether.

A few days after his conversion they were sitting around the fire singing when suddenly his little girl looked into his face and asked, "Father is this Heaven?"

SAGE AND ROMANCE

By Stuart B. Stone.

The author of "The Caucasian Ego and Its Manifestations in the Orient," uttered an ecstatic little cry. Away down in a dusty, musty corner, in an octavo of 1,483 pages of very fine print, the author of the great Ego book had found a very great truth. It was on page 1,117, and the great truth was a sentence of 96 words averaging 11 letters to the word, and 41 related to evolution, or devolution, I never definitely learned which. You see, it was really a most astounding, soul-satisfying truth, and it was no wonder that the bookman glowed at the discovery.

He was writing seven-syllabled words about Huxley and the Cosmos and the Indian Veda, when the door to the room of books-and-books opened and a fairy walked in. Oh, of course, it wasn't one of those Goldilocks, Snowdrop fairies that you cherished when you were innocent, but it was a fairy for sure—four years old, with the prettiest brownish hair and eyes like the maids on the life insurance calendars.

"Dad," said the fairy, "my mudder wants you to come and go to the show with us. We'll have the bestest time."

The bookman, though, continued to write great, deep biology stuff, so that the fairy child pined her summons again and then again.

When the bookman finally understood he frowned and stamped his foot. "No, indeed!" he declared. "I must finish my chapter on 'The Significance of the Kink in Human Hair.'"

"Oh, dad, won't you go?" the little one pleaded. "There will be tigers and kings."

But even a promise of tigers and kings could not stir the clammy blood of the man who wrote and the fairy burned in disappointment, yet lingered unseen by the hearth. For the tiger king show was a hard matter to give up. I'll leave it to you.

The author sighed with relief, now that the prattler was gone, and he rolled up his sleeves for deeper wading in a stack of Egyptology books. He would show the British museum bunch a trick or two in the Ego line—ah, that he would!

The biggest, fattest Egyptology book was on a very high shelf, and the author had recourse to his stepladder to secure the heavy tome. A smaller book dislodged itself and fell to the floor with considerable clatter.

"Dear me!" sighed the author; "what great bothers there are in life."

He stooped to secure the little book, and the title was in red and the cover was of green, so that the author could not help but see and read the foolish words: "Lord Durham's Beautiful Sweetheart." The sickly sentimentality of it all irritated the man of science.

"Bosh—rubbish—absolute idiocy—" he grunted. "How in the world did such clap-trap get in here?"

The front cover fell back, and the scientist could not get away from the inscription on the fly leaf:

"To Arthur, from Evelyn."

It was the gift of his bride of the happy, happy days.

"What's this?" frowned the author, and he sat in a leather chair and fell to reading Chapter III, of how young Lord Durham found a pearl of price in a cottage by the sea and the Pearl loved dearly, and finally of how a tyrant fate put the lord in a very high place and the poor little Pearl was left to cry out her heart. It was a moving tale.

The philosopher read on into Chapter IV, where he attended a fashionable ball, and in the fifth chapter he learned of young things kissing. Here he sighed a real Lord Durham sigh, utterly different from the Egyptology sigh of a wee bit back.

"I'll declare," he murmured, when, after awhile, he looked away from the love tale. "I was once something like this myself."

The fairy-kid, loitering desperately by the open fire, thought she saw a change—a curious softening in her fossil parent. So she asked again:

"Dad, let's go to see the pretty show?"

The author looked at Egypt and Veda and Darwin on the table; then he looked at the pinkish tot by the fire, and once again he sighed—another Lord Durham sigh.

"Tell your mother to get ready," he announced.

The fairy whooped and bounded away.

"And here's a quarter for peanuts and popcorn," the author of the Caucasian Ego shouted after.

Then the wise author followed the fairy, but he first took a long, lingering gaze at the stack of dreadful Egyptology on the ink-stained table.

Fallen Dandy Evidently Was Idol to King's Messenger.

When Beau Brummell, the celebrated dandy, was, in consequence of his fallen fortunes, residing at Calais, he had occasion to visit Paris. Through the kindness of the consul at the former place, he was enabled to accompany a king's messenger to the capital, and thus travel free of expense. When the messenger returned, the consul was curious to know how he and his aristocratic companion had fraternized upon the road. "What kind of a traveling companion did you find Mr. Brummell?" asked he. "Oh, a very pleasant one, indeed, sir; very pleasant," replied the messenger. "Ah! And what did he say?" "Say, sir? Nothing! He slept the whole way." "Slept the whole way! Do you call that being pleasant? Perhaps he snored!" The messenger acknowledged that Brummell did so, but immediately, as if fearful of casting an improper reflection upon so great a personage, added, with great gravity: "Yet I can assure you, sir, Mr. Brummell snored very much like a gentleman!"

SUPERSTITION HARD TO DOWN.

Level-Headed City Men Fight Shy of Number Thirteen.

Of all classes of people, the business man has been justly given credit for being the most balanced and the least subject to emotional influences. Yet superstition occasionally shows itself in the commercial world in a way that is often very disconcerting to the realist.

"Have a thirteenth floor in this building?" queries a part owner of one of the famous office buildings in New York. "Never! The thirteenth floor is sometimes difficult to rent; tenants would prefer to go higher or lower."

"The 13 hoodoo affects more otherwise sane men than is acknowledged. Many of the most famous business buildings in the country have no thirteenth floor—the fourteenth story follows the twelfth. By following this plan we take the least risk. As the names of tenants are arranged alphabetically on the directory the omission is seldom noticed."—System.

Great struggle takes place in a woman's mind when another woman asks what her new gown cost," remarked the thoughtful thinker.

"What's the answer," queried the unsophisticated youth.

"She's in doubt whether to cut the price in half and make the other woman envy her bargain, or double it and make her envy her affluence," replied the L.

Scientists tell us that the juices of ripe fruits are healthful and easily digested. The child can drink them as safely as the adult.

The syrups served at our fountain are made from the juices of fresh, thoroughly ripened fruits.

Care, cleanliness, skill and experience are used in their preparation. We think that better syrups than ours cannot be produced.

We are constantly at work solving the problem of how to serve better and more healthful drinks, if possible, than we have ever served before.

NATURE AND A WOMAN'S WORK

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering.

The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

Mrs. Bertha Muff, of 515 N.C. St., Louisiana, Mo., writes:

"Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my troubles public."

"For twelve years I had been suffering with the worst forms of female ills. During that time I had eleven different physicians without help. No tongue could tell what I suffered, and at times I could hardly walk. About two years ago I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice. I followed it, and can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice restored health and strength. It is worth mountains of gold to suffering women."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Muff, it will do for other suffering women.

The Ledger is THE Local Paper.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

CONSTIPATION

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 14 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you I am free from all that this morning. You can use this in behalf of suffering humanity."

RUGGLES CAMPMEETING

What Is Going On Now at These Beautiful Grounds

RUGGLES CAMPGROUNDS, August 1st, 1908.

The weather man is very lavish in his favors toward us this week. Last evening it looked as if it would rain but it all passed around and today it is cooler, with good prospects for a bright Sabbath. This is Brother Northcott's day. He returned this morning from Fleming county and preached at 10 o'clock. It is remarkable that a man in his eighty-seventh year, as he is, can stand up and preach a forty minute sermon and to preach such sound gospel truths that his hearers are thrilled with their inspiration. Although he cannot hear a word he speaks he was in good voice and delivered his sermon with as much vim and vigor, it seemed to us, as he did years ago. During the praise service, when many were speaking of the help Brother Northcott had been to them in their Christian life, Rev. William Jones sat at his side and wrote down for him the many things being said about him. His grand old face wore an expression of great joy and satisfaction at knowing that his Ministry of God's word in other years was bearing fruit in the lives of Christian men and women of the present day. We hope he may spare for many more Campmeetings and that his voice may yet speak to us of the riches of God's word.

The final young people's service was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Every one of these services from the first have been a success and too much praise cannot be given our Rev. G. W. Bunton for making them what they have been. It seemed that every one was loath to see this final service draw to a close and it ran thirty minutes beyond the time. Many valuable suggestions were made for these services next year and if they can be carried into effect it will work out for the good of the young people.

The Third Street M. E. Church has reason to be proud of its Pastor, Rev. Bunton. He preached one of the best sermons of the Camp.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

meeting tonight. His text was Pilate's words: "What shall I do with Jesus which is called the Christ?" and the effect of his sermon was manifested by many who called for prayers and others signified their intention of henceforth leading a Christian life.

There have been in all eighteen Ministers present at this Campmeeting, most of whom have now returned to their appointments. Each has contributed much toward the success of the meetings.

Lots of our tenters have taken advantage of the big blackberry crop and daily many have gone forth and brought in gallons of the luscious berries—and chiggers. One brother said he had enough of the latter to do him till cold weather.

Major W. H. Means and W. Huston Hall came out this afternoon to attend the meetings.

The camp is crowded tonight, so much so that many have been obliged to go outside the grounds to find sleeping quarters.

RUGGLES CAMPGROUNDS, August 2d, 1908.

The last day, the big Sunday, is here, and with the beautiful day has come as large a crowd as we have ever seen. The crowd is a very orderly one and as many as the Tabernacle would hold have attended each service.

Mr. John Bentz led the last early morning prayer service. Mr. I. M. Lane had charge of the 9 o'clock praise service, which was full of religious enthusiasm, nearly 100 persons participating in the testimonies. This service was a fitting prelude to the great sermon we were permitted to listen to at 10:30 from Dr. H. C. Jameson of Cincinnati.

At 2 o'clock Rev. J. U. Brown of Covington preached to a large audience. He had been announced as the Preacher with the "big bass voice," but he showed in his sermon that he could preach, as well as he could sing bass.

The final children's meeting was held today. Mrs. Bentz, who has been in charge, has done a good work. Through her faithful efforts five children have given their names for membership in the Church, two to the Methodist Episcopal, two to the M. E. Church, South, and one to the Presbyterian. The aim of Ruggles Campmeeting is to get people to be Christians, no matter what Church they may wish to join. A debt of gratitude is due Mrs. Bentz for a faithful work in the interest of the children.

Maysville folks are very numerous today, too many to mention names. Maysville always does her share toward the success of Ruggles Campmeeting.

One fellow was taken up by the police this morning for carrying about with him some corn juice. He gave bond for his appearance tomorrow, when he will be given a trial. The Directors are determined that the laws shall be

This evening at 7:30 the last service of the meeting was held. Dr. Jameson preached a farewell sermon and then invited all who would to assemble about the altar for a final consecration service. After this all joined heartily in singing "I'll Live For Him" and Rev. F. W. Harrop pronounced the final benediction.

It has been a good Campmeeting, what many of the older ones call an "old-time Campmeeting" and it is sincerely hoped that we may have many more just such.

WORK THAT TELLS.

Plenty of It Has Been Done Right Here in Maysville.

Cures that last are cures that tell. To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate the cures and see if they prove permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Maysville. People who testified years ago to relief from backache, kidney and urinary disorders now declare that relief was permanent and the cure perfect. How can any Maysville sufferer longer doubt the evidence?

M. C. Chisholm, 317 East Second street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"The cure which Doan's Kidney Pills effected in my case several years ago has remained permanent, and the testimonial I gave in their favor at that time still holds good. As previously stated, I was bothered a great deal by the too frequent action of the kidneys, this being especially annoying at night, when I would be obliged to arise several times. Having my attention called to Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore, and I had only taken them a short time when I noticed a marked improvement in my condition, and continuing with their use was cured. I have since learned of several instances in which Doan's Kidney Pills have been used with like results, and this has only served to strengthen my already high opinion of them."

Rev. W. W. Akers is engaged in a protracted meeting at Shawan, at the close of which he will conduct similar services at Catlettsburg.

The marble quarries owned by Maysville people and situated in Scott county, Virginia, have been opened and are doing a fine business. Mr. James Ireland returned from there Saturday night and is much pleased with the outlook. There are six different variegated grades of fine marble and all are adapted to building and ornamental purposes.

There are already many sore spots growing out of the hot fights before and in the County Conventions last Saturday, and it is believed that e'er the District Convention, which meets Wednesday, is over, there will be still more, notwithstanding the attempt that is being made to have everything "harmonious." The Republicans are de-lighted at the trend affairs have taken, and are only waiting for the third day of November to sweep the old Ninth for Taft and Sherman and Congressman Bennett.

Messrs. Horace Hornback and Joe Tolle and Misses Bessie Hornback and Mar Huesing of Covington spent Sunday at Rugs Campgrounds.

I have removed to No. 6 East Second street, where I am prepared to make and repair all kinds of Harness. Call and see me.

You Would Feel Better If You Had a

Good Summer Tonic

Most people at this time of the year need a good general system tonic. Even those who take the very best care of themselves find that they are obliged in the hot weather to tone up the system. You may not feel the need of it this week, but you will before long; but whether you do now or not remember that PECOR'S ORANGE PHOSPHO is the best known SYSTEM TONIC. It acts through the blood on every part of the system, reviving and stimulating it to new life and injecting the whole body full of energy. JUST WHAT YOU NEED. Only 50 cents per bottle.
